

Intuitive Financial Insight During Litigation Matters

The MFA Companies'® litigation support services provide attorneys and their clients with a clear, concise financial picture of the litigation matter at hand. The intuitive financial insight of the MFA team plays a key role in assessing legal options and facilitating litigation strategy development.

We can assist your litigation team in everything from analyzing, interpreting and summarizing complicated financial information and scouring the books for hidden data or transactions to performing business valuations and assessments of lost profits and economic damage. We can also conduct financial investigations that get to the bottom of shareholder disputes and ease the sometimes-onerous process of business separation.

How MFA Can Help

- Economic Damage Valuation
- Financial Analysis of Proposed Legal Options
- Support for Settlement Negotiations
- Partner/Shareholder Disputes
- Tax Litigation
- Divorce
- Personal/Enterprise Goodwill Separation
- Bankruptcy
- Insurance Claims
- Expert Witness Testimony & Reports

What MFA's Litigation Support Services Can Do For You

- Provide a financial analysis of legal options during litigation procedures to inform decision-making and ensure an economic outcome that best benefits the organization
- Evaluate shareholder agreements, contractual clauses and profit-sharing policies to assess financial, compensatory and other implications resulting from a shareholder exit or other triggering events
- Perform an independent valuation to establish the equity's worth when a distribution of assets is called for during a divorce, and one of the spouses owns a business (or interest in a business)
- Conduct financial investigations to facilitate bankruptcy proceedings, insurance claims and other matters that impact the organization's financial future
- Support your position in court or during the settlement of disputes regarding entitlements of interested parties with expert witness testimony and opinions
